The joint committee from the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs today began a search for the address of two out-of-town property owners on East Central avenue who it will be necessary to locate before the Central avenue paving program can be carried out.

The two are E. J. Thorner and George B. Hoffman. If any Albuquerqueans know where either of these men are living, the committee requests that they notify H. B. Watkins of the Chamber of Commerce, which has taken an active stand behind the paving project, or H. O. Durr, engineer.

There are 53 property owners on the proposed paving district which calls for 4,500 feet of paving. Mayor Governor Lindley, Earl A. Gerhardt, and two university fraternities—the Alpha Delta and Sigma Chi are others besides the few objectors who have not signed for the paving, but from whom no objection is expected.

Charles White, chairman of the joint committee from the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs announced today that he would call another meeting of the committees within a few days to discuss other ways of bringing pressure to bear on property owners to sign.

We wish to thank the friends who extended to us during our recent bereavement their many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy.
